

If cranial distortion is not recognized in time, permanent teeth will lock in bad bite and cranial distortion with it after age 22 through 2,000 swallows a day. That explains why physical therapy and spinal adjustments do not hold if dental bite is not corrected simultaneously.

Cranial distortion perpetuated by permanent teeth also leads to dysfunctional brain, pituitary (master hormonal) gland, and 12 cranial nerves that supply the eyes, ears, nose, throat, teeth, jaw joints, face, neck, shoulders, heart, lungs, and the length of digestive tract.
